I'd watched him watching her for quite some time. It was unnerving. ~~As~~ she got up to leave and he followed her, so I followed him. She made her way to the greenish lit parking garage and I saw him sneak up behind her, so I screamed, "Hey You!" She turned back quickly, ^{screamed} and fumbled her keys, clearly frightened of me and rushed to get in her car and lock the doors. I ran up to the window, but she backed out so quickly that it was of no use. Where did her stalker go? As she headed towards the exit, I saw his shape for ~~her~~ ^{and now she's gone} ^{really} but I ~~was~~ ^{back seat} ~~she~~ ^{will} always remember her scream.
